Peak Retreats voted Best Ski Company by national newspaper readers

BY SKIER & SNOWBOARDER on 27TH NOVEMBER 2019 · (0)

Peak Retreats (peakretreats.co.uk; 023 9283 9310) was named Best Ski Company at the recent Telegraph Travel Awards. The annual accolades are decided by votes from Telegraph readers.

Xavier Schouler, one of the two founders of Peak Retreats, said: "We are delighted to be named Best Ski Company. To receive recognition from Telegraph readers themselves in this way is particularly gratifying. We pride ourselves on finding traditional resorts away from the crowds yet with access to brilliant skiing and it's fantastic to see that this resonates with Telegraph readers too. I'm extremely proud of our team at Peak Retreats, and their passion for sharing this love of discovering the real French Alps with our clients."

Peak Retreats' PR, Social Media and Marketing Executive Hannah Jones accepts the Best Ski Company award from Head of Telegraph Travel Claire Irvin (right) and Environmentalist and Telegraph Columnist Benedict Allen (left).

Peak Retreats was set up by Xavier Schouler and Nathalie Soma in 2002 to give skiers the opportunity to discover real Alpine France; first-class accommodation, stunning scenery and unspoilt, traditional, welcoming mountain villages with access to amazing skiing. An excellent network of local contacts in the French Alps and a unique perspective, which combines a passionate UK-based team and French know-how, gives Peak Retreats a clear advantage.

Peak Retreats' other recent accolades include The Times Travel Editor's Award (2018), a Family Traveller Excellence Award (2019) and Best Family Ski Operator at the Family Traveller Awards 2018.
